ABOUT US

ScriptWise is a non-profit organisation formed to raise public awareness about the dangers and risks of prescription medication misuse and addiction, particularly opioids and benzodiazepines.

Through our awareness raising and advocacy work, we aim to heighten the collective national understanding of the dangers of prescription medications and about the responsible use of medicines.

ScriptWise advances the voices and concerns of families and individuals who have been personally affected by this problem and will place prescription medication misuse firmly within the national health discussion.

Vision:

A national body raising awareness about prescription medication misuse and addiction in Australia.

Mission:

To educate all Australians on the dangers and risks of misusing prescription medications.

Goal:

To reduce the number of incidents relating to prescription medication misuse and overdose fatalities in Australia.

PROBLEM STATEMENT

The problem of prescription medication misuse and addiction has become increasingly prevalent in Victoria over the last decade. Research shows that in 2013, prescription medications caused or contributed to the deaths of 310 out of 374 people who died in Victoria as a result of overdose.

WHERE DOES YOUR MONEY GO?

- To hold community awareness workshops for consumers and health professionals around Victoria (metro and regional areas);
- To develop an online hub where consumers can access information on their prescription medications and its possible risks (if misused); and
- To develop educational materials for various target groups at risk of misusing prescription medications.
